

One Hundred Grimoires

1	A well-loved Workbook: repaired multiple times: Embosses itself with name of Reader	51	Large and thick, opening reveals a smaller book, and nested inside another, and another, and another
2	An unusual Field Guild: blood drop on page provides a rough rendering of the creature it is from	52	Leather the color of bruised Plums, tanned from Purple Worm, letters glow faintly in the Infrared spectrum
3	Artfully tanned Buckskin, meticulously stitched with a judgmental Stag, smells of the Wood	53	Lilac colored cloth hugs fine vellum pages, Cats are inexorably drawn to the book like Catnip
4	Between perfumed pages of this Cerulean Book are pressed flowers and an upset/flat Sprite	54	Little and yellow, blank page toward the middle fills up with a different diary entry every day, mostly drivel
5	Bound in a perpetually bloody Shroud, smells faintly of Lilies and sobs slightly when opened	55	Loose pages tied together with leather cord; a dozen lifelike illustrations of Monster Tracks could be useful
6	Bumpy bright orange Ostrich binding, dedication tells of prophetic dreams if placed under Pillow	56	Made from Basilisk hide, gloveless hands will slowly become calked in chalky stone dust when read
7	Bury this Olive Tome for a week; dig it up to reveal a crude map of the surrounding area	57	Marred by various pleasant-smelling stains, some of the recipes jotted in empty spaces are quite good
8	Clear lacquer seals a cover composed of several Ancient Coins, arranged in pleasing patterns	58	Marvelous Malachite colored Book with painting on every page, giggles softly when shut
9	Cleverly constructed: center sheafs fold to form a Pop-Up Map of a distant Ziggurat Complex	59	Mottled Maroon cloth covers a mildly enchanted book: each page provides its own low Light to read by
10	Coffinwood, lashed with fraying rope, 1/day becomes a very clumsy Golem that can make Tea	60	Mummy linen, crudely stitched together, forms the pages of this Crocodile Leather book that the Dead detest
11	Completely waterproof, pages smolder if this Squid-bound Tome is opened unsubmerged	61	Nondescript beige book with cold iron corners and a hefty clasp, some Fae folk flee from the very sight of it
12	Contains a 400-year Almanac of Weather for a distant land, bound in Saffron stained Linen	62	Nondescript Navy-Blue Cloth binding belies a secret: self-turning pages and brief levitation for easy reading
13	Content trails off suddenly, replaced by Love Poems and a tenderly mounted lock of Nymph Hair	63	Normally pale Canary, the cover turns a sickly Green in the presence of noisome smells and toxic gases
14	Cover polished to a mirror finish, reflected face stares back disapprovingly or grins sadistically	64	Obviously bound in Bootleather, with Hobnails intact; anyone carrying this Book is immune to Caltrops
15	Crudely stitched pieces of Acrobat attire, unusual dance steps noted through the margins	65	Once a week, congenial Spiders stream forth and expertly mend rips and tears in robes/clothes
16	Deceptively light for its size, pages strum when turned with sheet music in the marginalia	66	Only way to turn the pages of this book are to use the narrow Dagger stored within pages cut to store it
17	Dedicated to prize-winning Sow, skin now serves as binding: She was tattooed with Wings	67	Onyx Cover with shifting specks of glittering white, if you squint you can make out the current constellations
18	Disjointed ramblings reveal bright binding is Toxic Toad which author licked for inspiration	68	Pages appear blank unless the reader smears a drop of blood on the Golden Stirge embossed on the front
19	Disturbingly familiar texture only enhanced by a Ghoul's favorite recipes on a loose leaf	69	Pale silver with a clunky embedded Holy Symbol, whatever Wizard wrote this was incredibly religious
20	Dogs whimper/demur with tails between legs when confronted with this Tiger Skin Tome	70	Pilfered from the Library of a Benevolent Sphinx: first leaf details the intriguing reward offered if returned
21	During sundown/sunrise book claps open & shut furiously for unless the mithril clasp is locked	71	Quills never run dry; book is home to a very small Ink Weird who dwells happily in a large puddle like stain
22	Dwarf-made, substantial; minuscule text, delicate mithril jeweler's loupe on an Elf chain helps	72	Quivering Trollskin Cover, pallid green and sprouting tufts of thick black hair; many Anatomical Drawings
23	Each page is the back of a Wanted Poster, same Criminal, progressively worse crimes	73	Raspy snakeskin grimoire, hisses at anyone that doesn't stroke spine thrice; contains some sketches of Statues
24	Eerily detailed scarlet handprint on cover will, over time, match the last reader's palm precisely	74	Rather confusing family trees are sprinkled throughout the pages, someone sharing your name is in several
25	Elaborate clockwork combination lock keeps contents safe, all glittering gears of copper & brass	75	Reeking of hot garbage, whomever had the idea to bind a book in Otyugh leather was obviously disturbed
26	Eleven inset eyes periodically open/close on the leather Cover, darting glances of feverish terror	76	Rough papyrus clamped between two ancient baked Clay Tablets, legible to even those who can't read
27	Embossed with Gorgon Scales, the rich brown leather is always slightly cool to the touch	77	Scaly binding once Giant Chameleon skin, it does still retain its ability to slowly change color
28	Encircled by several sturdy Chains that shiver and unravel with a clatter when touched	78	Scrawled on several pages: relaxing Bedtime Stories, used with Sleep can affect slightly stronger foes
29	Exquisitely tooled faux Red Dragonhide, watercolors of playful Monkeys change places	79	Seems like almost every page is peppered with Oaths and Curses against an Apprentice's cruel Master
30	Extremely well-trained Mimic must be fed a Rodent 1/week, or it grows uncooperative & snappy	80	Silvery runes encircling the cover bind a mostly harmless, sarcastic Shadow to this Charcoal colored tome
31	Faithful Cover art of Stork in Mother-of-Pearl, pale Blue book is full of prophetic Baby Names	81	Sized for Halfling Hands with several pages torn from the back; each leaf is edible and sustains one for a day
32	Fantastic Butterflies surge from pages first time opened, linger around reader for at least a week	82	Stamped with pleasing floral pattern, bright purple book also contains accurate drawings of several Herbs
33	Features a handy phrase book with useful Drow & Deep Gnome phonetics, cover like an Oil Slick	83	Sturdy Sail Canvas stitched with heavy line, brief teases of a map to buried Treasure on a handful of pages
34	Gaping Gargoyle Maw embossed on the front can store up to 50 coins, it takes 2 as a tax though	84	Supple crimson leather with breathtakingly complex illuminations, always opens to last page read
35	Garishly decorated with a bejeweled Peacock, quality paper pages feature advice on Etiquette	85	Tanned Pteranodon Wing Leather binds unusual black pages with white script, footnotes speak of a Cataclysm
36	Gorged on a diet of Magic, you don't so much read tome as converse with resident Bookworms	86	Tarnished Gold and torn parchment: Written communication possible with corresponding copy far, far away
37	Green Wyvern leather, corroded copper buckles, purple cloth bookmark licks reader like a tongue	87	The color of moonlit sand, when opened the reader's nose is treated to the aroma of their favorite dish
38	Grey, velvet-like cover, thick Book; can be placed atop another Tome to copy (nonmagical) contents	88	Thick Rhinoceros Hide keeps the contents quite safe, burnt pages in the back tell of Calling forth Fire Spirits
39	Handiwork of a very collectible and famous Bookbinder, signature illustrations on the page gilding	89	This glistening Pomegranate colored Libram was also used as a Dream Journal by a previous owner
40	Hellhound Leather bound, touch corner to dry kindling: cause it to smolder and ignite swiftly	90	Topographic maps of Mountain Ranges/Canals on distant Planets, with magnification you can see movement
41	Hourglass embedded in the front still works well, as does the fold out sundial on the back	91	Tree art on frontispiece changes with the Seasons, the Dryad who died to make the pages still haunts this tome
42	If touched to bare earth, Bark-bound book takes root rapidly before sprouting random Flowers	92	Troop Movements and unsuccessful battle plans/strategies are illustrated within this Chainmail bound Book
43	Illustrated cover depicts Gnome Painter: When pointed at subject, a sketch appears on the final page	93	Uneven Birch Bark pages, cover sprouts a bitter but semi-nutritious vibrant emerald Moss once a week
44	Inlaid with polished Ivory (fanged mouth pattern) on black satin, book floats on top of still waters	94	Used as a Ledger of some kind, slim and tall Blue volume can do automatic Sums and Subtractions
45	Jagged amethyst inclusions always seem to poke the reader, book sheds deep and fragrant soil	95	Vermillion with sickly cream trim, sections re-seal themselves each morning with blood-red wax
46	Jealous Book: If shelved with others they will soon end up scattered on the floor	96	Very sturdy inlays of Tortoise Shell, sometimes fouls nearby waterskins by turning water to brine
47	Jet black silky leather sourced of Warp Beast; bookmark frustratingly moves on its own when closed	97	Weeping sour Milk unless it is fed fresh grass once a week, this Teal colored Tome comes in a cowhide case
48	Joyful Jade Cover, Aquamarine & Brass clasps: 1 Page reads aloud text placed on it before going blank	98	While the sun is up, the thick Indigo binding appears to just wrap around a solid block of Wood
49	Keen eyes might notice Alchemical Formulae concealed in intricate scrollwork of these vellum pages	99	Written in the pointy Cuneiform of Scorpionkin, this Camel Leather volume sizzles in contact with Water
50	Knocking thrice on sturdy Leather cover disguises Brown Book's contents as a boring Romance Novel	100	Yellow hide of an extinct(?) Dragon type: Scribe a question in an ancient language, receive advice the next night