Seasonal Weather (d20, d100, or Choose)

		Spring		Summer
1	1	What is hopefully a final, anemic, cold snap half-heartedly rimes	21	Fair weather and the mildest of leaf-rustling winds
2	2	Crisp reminders of Winter are purged by a thoughtful dawn	22	Wispy clouds lace a brilliantly bright blue sky
3	3	Fleeting briskness in the morning gives way to slightly overcast skies	23	The kind of clement weather that seems to put everyone in a better mood
4	4	Jewelers of Dew worked overtime, and their work persists well into noon	24	This morning's dew didn't stand a chance under such a cheerful Sun
5	5	Even plants seem to yawn and stretch towards the clement Sun	25	Fast drifting Clouds tint your vision every few minutes as they pass
6	6	Breezes, gravid with pollen, make for red eyes and runny noses	26	Balmy, warm breeze fades and returns the moment it's missed
7	7	Chastising stray Clouds, the Sun seems to get a head start today	27	Hard-pressed to fine complaint with such temperate skies
8	8	Remarkably brief torrents herald the arrival of a shy Rainbow	28	Cloudless skies with a warm start to the day, gradually heating up
		A pleasant day, even the sereins and sun showers are a welcome relief		Earlier rains seem to have broken the humidity for now
9	9	Clouds appear to have fled from their perches to lower places: Mist	29	Hot wind whips up grit, getting into eyes and mouths
10			30
11	11	A very stiff Breeze seems to stifle birdsong, if only for a few moments	31	Sweat beads and pools on backs due to oppressive humidity
	12	Any with an old injury will tell you: Coming Storm, felt in their bones	32	One lonely, ragged Cloud floats defiantly in an otherwise clear sky
13	13	A loud, howling Squall kicks up without the slightest warning	33	A bright kind of Heat has you craving a drink of cool Water
	14	Fat, nape-seeking Raindrops delight in sending chills down spines	34	Glare that always finds eyes, no matter where they look
15	15	Another cloudburst leaves everything completely soaked	35	Looking in askance to the skies, Rain would be a welcome relief
16	16	The clamorous peals of Thunder almost seem to concur with the Flashes	36	So very stifling, even the Birds appear to be panting and fighting over shade
17	17	Pelting everything with pea-shaped hailstones that bounce and sting	37	Quivering haze, like staring over a campfire and just as hot
18	18	Lightning stitches savagely across the sky with vociferous urgency	38	Could swear you can feel yourself searing, hope you don't sunburn easily
19	19	Raining Displacer Dogs and Blink Cats is the old expression	39	You could fry an Egg on a polished Buckler in a few minutes
20	20	A powerful Gale, whips stinging rain & debris, dark clouds conceal a Funnel	40	Positively sweltering, heat exhaustion or stroke could set in

	Weird & Wilder Weathers
81	Dry, arid days make for handshakes that seem to never cease to startle with shocks	91	Fine dust from distant Deserts makes for claret skies, sand drifts form in a few hours
82	Replacing the boom and crash, distant Thunder gets musical: Tuckets and Trills	92	Largess to Artists/Illusionists: When rain falls through a Rainbow, it randomly stains
83	Strange, saucer-shaped Clouds are said to be associated with Dragon Mating Season	93	Celestial Revels must be getting out of hand: Sickly sweet Wine drizzles from the sky
84	Shadows start to stutter and multiply as something moves in front of the Sun	94	Though incredibly beautfiful, these Crepescular Rays are unnervingly long lasting
85	A truly ill-wind blows: snatches of the Chaotic Tongue whisper heresies into every ear	95	When the hailstones rival a Halfling's Head it would be prudent to seek shelter
86	Seems like Snow at first, but catching a flake on your tongue is Salty: Brine Showers	96	Once/generation, Anemophily of Mirthful Cedar seems to put all a-giggle for a few days
87	Greatly feared by the Deathless: this torrential Rain is Holy to a drop	97	Smoke on the breeze is followed by wafting ash and soot, maybe cinders soon
88	There always seems to be a Sun Dog, always out of the corner of your eye	98	Only minutes of Sun "Today" as it races backwards West-East frustrating chroniclers
89	Tadpoles and Minnows fall from the sky, landing in tragically temporary puddles	99	Jubilent Farmers celebrate a Rain that instantly make crops fruit in unprecidented size
90	Searing its way across the sky, visible in full sun: a Portentous Omen	100	Some Storms transcend Planes, Fiery Rains undoubtedly lead to smug Doomsayers
